EVALUATIVE CRITERIA

SECTION I

PURPOSES AND OBJECTIVES

The area of purposes and objectives is the most fundamental of all the eight areas to be surveyed. The accrediting association judges an institution not by comparison with other sound institutions, which may legitimately vary in many respects, but primarily by the degree to which each institution's avowed purposes are matched by actual practice in the eight broad areas included in any school's framework: Community Involvement, Faculty, Instruction, Library, Laboratories, Physical Plant, Student Services and Administration. Thus, while one accredited school may be better than another, both schools are granted accreditation because their actual educational practices are in basic agreement with their professed purposes and objectives. Purposes and Objectives express what the institution claims to be. These are specified by goals it has set up to attain which are also the final criteria it wishes to be judged by. Only its actual practices can and will reveal to what extent it has actually become what it professes to be.

A. Statement of Purposes and Objectives of the Institution

An institution's purposes and objectives will determine the school's policies regarding the acceptance of students and the instructional program/s it will offer. These purposes and objectives should be determined in the light of the needs of the clientele which it intends to serve as well as the needs of the community in which it exists. They should be formulated not only for the institution as a whole, but also for the particular college/colleges for which accreditation is sought. These purposes and objectives should be clearly stated in a catalogue or prospectus which is readily available to prospective students and other persons concerned.

The institution should include among its objectives a well-integrated program for the development of moral character and personal discipline in its students. It should also insure the completion by its students of an adequate program of general education on the collegiate level, the guidance of each student toward the discovery of a satisfying and community-oriented vocation in life, and the development by each student of responsible attitudes as a citizen of the Philippines.

B. Specific Objectives for the Multimedia Arts/Animation/Game Design Program

Within the framework imposed by the general purposes mentioned earlier, each institution is free to choose the specific objectives for each individual college and course. Not only is this freedom recognized by PAASCU; its exercise is actually encouraged. Such specific objectives, of course, should be seen by PAASCU as attainable and educationally sound.

C. Acceptance by the Faculty

There should be unmistakable evidence that the current faculty, by and large, subscribe to the purposes and objectives of the institution and that the institution orients new faculty members to the essential purposes of the institution soon after their appointment.

D. Agreement Between Objectives and Activities

The agreement between the stated purposes and the practices of the institution should be apparent. Purposes, to be effective, must be so directly related to the corresponding activities of the institution that they determine what those activities shall be. The institution should cease to claim purposes to which it cannot direct its activities. Any claims made by the institution itself regarding the value and validity of its purposes, whether those claims be made in the college catalogue or in any form of public announcement, should be easily verifiable.

EXPLANATION

The Evaluation Survey Team should fill out Divisions A to C of this Form before the survey of the other areas is undertaken. The other areas will be evaluated in the light of the purposes and objectives professed by the college under survey, (e.g., Liberal Arts, Commerce, etc.) and the entire institution of which the college is a part. Thus, the Evaluation Survey Team -- as well as the faculty committees which join in the work -- should be aware of the information supplied in this Form and should keep it in mind as they inspect the various features and activities of the college.

This section on purposes and objectives indicates, not necessarily what the college already is, but what it is in process of becoming. The last part of the preceding statement should be carefully distinguished from mere hopes, promises or plans, in answering the question which follows below.

The important question "Is there harmony between the actual educational practices and activities as seen in this college and the purposes and objectives?" serves as an indicator of fidelity to the purposes and objectives for the survey of the other areas. The propositions contained within Divisions A, B and C of the Survey Form describe necessary conditions for requesting accreditation. The Evaluation Survey Team should be assured that these conditions are met in the course offering (e.g., Liberal Arts curriculum, Commerce, etc.) before directing the survey of the other eight areas.

Parentheses () are placed to the left of the propositions. If the proposition is verified in the institution or college, place the symbol E; if doubtfully verified, place the symbol S (to some extent only); if not verified, use the symbol M for missing. In Division B, the objectives should be typed in; if more space is required, additional pages may be used.

EVALUATIVE CRITERIA

SECTION II

FACULTY

A. Academic Qualifications

The educational background of faculty members should be adequate for teaching on the college level; it should include graduate studies or their equivalent; e.g. outstanding achievement or years of experience in the field of specialization.*

B. Educational and Professional Experience and Length of Service

The staff should have experience in college teaching gained by years of service, as well as the vigor and enthusiasm characteristic of youth. **

C. Selection Policies

In the selection of individual faculty members the academic requirements of the government are taken into consideration. It is a cooperative process involving the administration, department heads, area chairpersons and other faculty members. Terms of faculty appointment are expressed in writing. Attention should be given to teaching ability, character, personality and health. The faculty members should have personal integrity, broad general scholarship, and extensive preparation in their special fields, professional expertise and competence in communication skills. Before acceptance into the staff, each member should produce evidence of adequate preparation for his particular task and the possession of such personal traits requisite to teaching and to associating with youth. He should be informed of the objectives of the institution and show willingness to subscribe to them.

D. Ranking and Promotion

A college should have a definite system of ranking and tenure, which is clearly described in the Faculty Handbook. Criteria for promotion include teaching ability, publication of scholarly works, special services to the college and/or department, further educational attainment, community involvement, and commitment to the purposes and objectives of the College. Recommendations of the administration, faculty members, and students are considered in the application of the criteria. The system of tenure provides for an adequate probationary period.

* The normal qualification for a college teacher is the possession of the master's degree.

 A teacher will be considered as satisfying the norm of "experience", if he has had three (3) years of satisfactory college teaching in his or her major subject or three (3) years of successful practice in his profession before appointment.

A written notice of any change or retention of status is given to faculty members early enough before the end of the probationary period.

Definite procedures for separation/dismissal are clearly stated in the Faculty Handbook and duly observed in the separation/dismissal of faculty members.

E. Teaching Assignments

The percentage of full-time instructors should be sufficiently large to insure effective instruction and constant guidance of students. *

The members of the faculty should be given teaching assignments in the field of their major or minor lines of specialization.

The teaching load of faculty members should not be so heavy as to prevent sufficient preparation for classes, adequate evaluation of student achievement or professional growth of the teachers themselves. **

The number of staff members should be adequate for the educational programs offered, the school's enrolment, and the special needs of the students.

F. Faculty Research

The faculty should engage in research and publication. It is important that there is sufficient support from the administration in terms of recognition of research work and provision for funding projects.

G. Community Service

A social service orientation should permeate the school atmosphere. The faculty members should take the lead in creating within the total academic community an awareness of social issues, deep concern for the needs of others and a strong desire to commit themselves to community upliftment and social change.

* A full-time instructor is defined as one who has a normal teaching load and spends the remainder of the day in research, study, or other non-teaching activities calculated to advance the interest of the students in the college under consideration.

 Normally, a teacher should not have a teaching load of more than 24 hours a week. His other commitments should not be such as will adversely affect his instructional performance in the college.

H. Teaching Performance

There should be regular performance evaluation of faculty members using instruments acceptable to the faculty and following criteria involving teaching competence, research and community involvement.

I. Faculty Development

A college should have a long-term Faculty Development Program which takes into account provisions for scholarships, leaves of absence, research grants, etc.

A college must have professionally alert and progressive faculty members, as evidenced by their membership in professional or learned organizations, productive scholarship, and attendance at regular and special faculty meetings. Individual and school efforts towards the professional growth of staff members should be extensive and effective.

J. Faculty Relationships

Provisions should be made for faculty participation in the formulation of purposes and objectives, in policy-making, and in the evaluation of curricular and other programs of the college.

Satisfactory relationships should exist among faculty members, and between faculty members and administration, students and other sectors of the community.

K. Salaries and Fringe Benefits

Salaries should be such as to assure a living standard in conformity with the social demands of the profession. The members of the faculty must receive just compensation calculated to attract and retain qualified instructors and professors.

A college must provide some types of recognition to reward faculty members who have rendered long, efficient, and devoted service to the college, by having a system of financial and promotional advancement for the members of the faculty.

The institution should have a social security program which includes retirement plans, separation pay and special awards.

EVALUATIVE CRITERIA

A. Curriculum

The program of studies required and implemented by the college should have well-defined and clearly stated objectives and learning outcomes (i.e. acquisition of knowledge, skills, values and competencies for future success) and should meet prescribed standards. It should provide for a coherent and relevant curriculum with clear-cut goals for human and national development, which results in student achievement of the institution's objectives and the program's intended learning outcomes.

The curriculum should also provide practical experiences directly related to the professional roles for which the students are being prepared. Provisions should be made for involving the institution's various stakeholders in a systematic and periodic re-evaluation of the curriculum using assessment data for program improvement and internal quality assurance purposes.

B. Teaching-Learning Process

The teaching and learning processes used in instruction should be appropriate, varied, and should facilitate the wholistic development of students.

The processes should reflect the institution's teaching-learning framework. Provisions should be available to foster learning inside and outside the classroom. The use of creative and applied research findings, audio-visual aids, and the integration of relevant technology should enhance the teaching-learning process.

A variety of teaching-learning methodologies such as lectures, combined laboratory and lectures, project presentations, peer critique of projects, discussion groups, and collaborative work are used.

C. Teaching-Learning Environment

The teaching-learning environment should be conducive to effective instruction. Classroom atmosphere should reflect self-discipline, cooperation, and mutual respect. Measures should be taken to ensure the punctual attendance of students and faculty members in their scheduled classes.

Venues (classrooms, laboratories, audio-visual rooms) for teaching-learning should be well-equipped and the number of students for each session.

Overcrowding of classrooms should be avoided. The number of students should be appropriate to the size and acoustics of the room.

D. Assessment of Learning Outcomes

The learning outcomes of the academic program should be well defined and their realizations are reflected in the graduates' completion of the program, career success, and contribution to society.

Admission and retention policies should facilitate students' completion of the academic program.

E. Supervision of Instructional Program

An instructional supervision program should exist which should include such practical measures as: requirement of syllabi, visits to classes, informal dialogues with faculty and students, evaluation of tests and examinations (both of questions and of the manner of correcting papers). The faculty should be encouraged to join seminars and educational associations, and to experiment, where feasible, with new approaches in teaching.

This area should cover such matters as: coordination of curriculum offerings; their development and management; the adoption of the proper books; the organization of the faculty into departments or the like, to promote effectiveness of instruction. Instructional policies and programs should foster effective instruction.

F. Co-Curricular Programs

Co-curricular activities should reflect and support the instructional program. Co-curricular programs should complement the curriculum and the instructional process. Opportunities should be provided for students to apply theories and concepts learned in the various courses and learn to work together and collaborate with one another in co-curricular activities.

G. Academic Consultation/ Advising

The students should be oriented on the availability of academic guidance and counselling. Persons in charge of academic counselling should be available to the students for consultation.

The rationale of the academic consultation/advising program should be well defined and should guide students in making meaningful decisions relative to their academic life.

Evaluation should be done on the effectiveness of academic mentoring/advising. Student satisfaction with the quality of academic consultation and advising services should serve as the gauge for monitoring and evaluation.

2. Give a summary of the enrollment by degree program and majors for the current and the previous two school years.
3. Submit a copy of the Student Handbook or any school document where admission and retention policies are explained.

EVALUATIVE CRITERIA

Criteria:

Laboratories are an essential part of the curricular programs of an institution. They include not just the space but also the supplies, equipment and features desired of good laboratories to help attain course objectives.

A. Facilities and Equipment

Laboratory rooms should be spacious, well-ventilated, well-lighted and safe. Furniture arrangement should not obstruct traffic and facilities should be readily available when needed.

Science lecture rooms should have adequate space and provisions for appropriate demonstrations and exhibits.

Since the laboratory is a potential source of accidents and fires due to certain equipment and heat sources, a periodic safety check is needed. Safety checks include removal of possible causes of accidents and provisions for fire-fighting equipment. First-aid facilities should be ready for immediate use.

There should be special laboratories adequately equipped to meet the needs of the courses for which they are intended. Particular needs for courses in Computer Science, IT, IS, Multimedia, Animation and Game Design should be met.

There should be adequate equipment and supplies for each of the laboratory courses offered by the college to allow students to work in small groups and in open labs. The apparatus, tools and materials should conform at least to the minimum requirements of the Commission on Higher Education and to such other standards as may be set to achieve the specific objectives of the college and of the courses offered.

B. Maintenance, Improvement, and Safety

The college should not only continually maintain its Computer laboratory facilities and equipment in good condition; it should also manifest its alertness to educational progress in scientific fields by the improvement and expansion of its facilities and by the acquisition of up-to-date laboratory equipment, apparatus and supplies. It should cover areas related to safety and security of the users, equipment and facilities.

C. Laboratory Personnel

Laboratory assistants or technicians are indispensable members of the laboratory staff; they relieve the classroom professor from routine maintenance and record-keeping duties. A specific development plan that outlines the training needs and competencies that lab personnel requires to adequately support the facility/ies and its users.

D. Policies and Operating Procedures

There should be policies and procedures governing the use of fees/budget for laboratories. There should be policies and procedures for the use of the laboratory/ies in the college. Provisions on virus protection and software licenses be put into place.

EXPLANATION

A college should have adequate laboratory facilities and equipment for effective instruction. The Analysis and Evaluation portions in this Survey Form are designed to discover the extent to which the laboratories of the college or institution under survey conform to this general criterion.

The laboratories to be surveyed are those in use by the students of the college or institution applying for accreditation. Even though more than one college of the institution make use of the same laboratories, judgment, however, concerning the adequacy of space, equipment and supplies, the courses and number of classes using the laboratories should be kept in mind.
